DESCRIPTION To plan for its future growth in Silicon Valley, VeriSign, Inc. (now Symantec), one of the internet's most trusted names in e-mail addressing and security, retained D. R. Young Associates to provide complete project management services leading to the entitlement of the fourth and final building on its Mountain View Campus. Over 102,000 square feet in size, this approval was accompanied by an extended Development Agreement which allows execution of the project to occur over a longer period of time - providing critical flexibility to respond to the changing needs of the Company.
